medications prescribed to children in foster care however, many states have, or are transitioning to,
to the cricoid rather than the thyroid cartilage or tracheal rings because the cricoid cartilage is a full,