the body needs carbohydrates to manufacture serotonin, but excess intake of carbohydrates and simple sugars can lower serotonin levels and be factors in symptoms of depression