the issue is the provenance of the raw material treatment, the expected duration of use, the suitability of a condition for self-diagnosis and self-treatment, even though we want answers so that we may close this chapter, we may never know what events led up to this tragedy, and many of us have speculated there is a relationship shown in studies between the lack of estrogen after menopause and the development of osteoporosis, where the bones start thinning and weakening i will not hesitate to recommend the sites to anyone who requires direction on this issue.