go out to the sea, dip in your toes, feel the water and then relax and float.

maybe you could space it out better?

pupils must have a desire to learn as much information about the health and medicine field as a whole, as their future careers may be heavily influenced by trends in these areas.